Introductory.

BRISTOL CITY DIRECTORY for 1901-1902 is here presented to our patrons and the public, with the belief that it will meet all the requirements of those wishing to consult a work of this character. A thorough canvass of the entire city has been made by men trained to and experienced in Directory work, and we believe that the name of practically every person living within the city, of the classes usually included in such works, has been obtained. The rapid growth of the city, and especially the large number of new dwellings in course of construction have somewhat increased the ordinary difficulties met with in compiling a Directory. As far as possible persons intending to occupy these new houses within a few months have been so located, though the address will not be strictly correct at the time the book is published. Again these new dwellings, as well as a great many others, built within the last five or six years, are not numbered. In such cases the locations are described by street crossings or corners, and made as nearly exact as possible.

The alphabetical list contains, exclusive of firms, corporations and institutions, 4,271 names. Multiplying these figures by 3, the ratio generally accepted by Directory publishers, we have 12,813 as the population of the two Bristols.

Thanking our patrons for their support, and the citizens generally for their co-operation, we are

Very respectfully,

Directory Borrowers.

We receive many complaints from our patrons to the effect that they are continually harassed by that pest, THE CHRONIC DIRECTORY BORROWER.

These parties are not the private citizens nor the stranger in the city who steps in, looks at the Directory and goes out; but merchants, business and professional men, who need a Directory every day in the year, yet who are too close-fisted to buy one, and when solicited by the canvasser, will inform him that they have no use for a Directory, that they know everybody and everybody knows them. These are the individuals who borrow your Directory "just for a minute," which in the majority of cases means a day, perhaps a week, and very often forever if you forget who borrowed it.

Directory Borrowers.

We receive many complaints from our patrons to the effect that they are continually harassed by that pest, THE CHRONIC DIRECTORY BORROWER.

These parties are not the private citizens nor the stranger in the city who steps in, looks at the Directory and goes out; but merchants, business and professional men, who need a Directory every day in the year, yet who are too close-fisted to buy one, and when solicited by the canvasser, will inform him that they have no use for a Directory, that they know everybody and everybody knows them. These are the individuals who borrow your Directory "just for a minute," which in the majority of cases means a day, perhaps a week, and very often forever if you forget who borrowed it.
