Planes Such As These At Tri-Cities Airport Set The Pace For Life In 1956

PROMPT DELIVERIES—In Bristol's early days, customers were served with the equipment you see here.

Prompt deliveries, low prices and "good goods" was the motto of Adams Brothers Company. The firm was a dealer in lumber, lime, brick, coal and wood. This photograph, made at the turn of the century, shows a view of the company's headquarters on Commonwealth Avenue.
