On The Cover:

Featured on the cover of this issue of the Alumnae Magazine are four 1967 graduates who typify Beauty, Intelligence, and Personality at Virginia Intermont.

Eleanor Bryant from Kenbridge, Virginia, who was a princess in the Virginia Apple Blossom Festival.

Margaret Lynn Garban from Port Washington, New York, who is the 1967 May Queen.

Sharon Estelle Guillette, from Newport News, Virginia, who is the recipient of the 1967 Alumnae Award for Ideal Intermont Girl.

Susan Harrison, from McLean, Virginia, who is the highest ranking student academically in the 1967 graduating class.

Virginia Intermont Observes Seventy-Ninth Commencement

The long line of 190 graduates files into the college amphitheatre for the seventy-ninth commencement.

The Seventy-Ninth Commencement of Virginia Intermont College was held Sunday, June 4, 1967, in the Amphitheater on the campus, at 10:30 a.m. A total of 190 students received diplomas. To date this is the largest graduating class in Intermont's history, nine more graduates than last year.

At 10:30 a.m. the procession of administrative personnel and faculty members attired in black robes accented by their school colors walked slowly down the steps to the amphitheater. The graduating class followed.

Mr. J. Neal Tolson gave the Invocation. With the audience standing, "God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand" was sung.

Barbara Jean Wilson, president of the sophomore class, spoke on the topic "No Man is an Island," this being the theme of the Freshman-Sophomore banquet, which was held on May 15, 1967, at the Holiday Inn Convention Center.

Miss Judith Warren sang a solo, "My Heart Ever Faithful."

Dr. Floyd V. Turner, president, introduced the speaker, Dr. Stuart Grizzard, whose subject was "Five Key Words in Today's World."

Dr. Grizzard is pastor of the National Baptist Memorial Church in Washington, D. C., and is the most recently elected member of the Board of Trustees at Virginia Intermont. He was born in Essex County, Virginia, son of a Baptist minister, and attended George Washington University and the University of Richmond. Besides having been pastor of a number of Baptist churches during his career, he has served twice as vice president of the Baptist General Association of Virginia, was president of the Virginia Baptist Pastors' Conference.

Dr. Louis H. Taylor, Acting Academic Dean, presented the graduates, and Dr. Turner awarded the diplomas.

The top five scholastic honor students were recognized and presented by Dr. Taylor. In descending order they are: Susan Harrison, McLean, Virginia; Eleanor Bryant, Kenbridge, Virginia; Blossom Franklin, Royal Oak, Michigan; Judith Sumski, Poughkeepsie, New York; and Sharon Robinson, Cumberland, Maryland.

Pre-Commencement Activities

Commencement Weekend began on Friday, June 2, at 1:00 p. m. with the 28th annual Horse Show, which brought 75 girls into the ring. Frances Asp, president of the Boots and Saddle Club, opened the events after an introduction of the officials and ribbon marshals. Mrs. Charles Taylor, secretary to Mr. Richard Styles, sang "The Star Spangled Banner".

Bill Bricker and J. T. Dickerson, both of Bristol, Tennessee, served as announcer and ringmaster, respectively, and Mrs. Lee Kent, Radford, Virginia, judged the saddle seat and forward seat equitation classes, the pair class and the musical sacks event.

Mrs. Carroll P. Kelley, Fredericksburg, Virginia, served as organist. The Boots and Saddle Club Drill introduced the festivities.

The horse show committee was composed of Gail Cook, Margie Hensley, Pat McCaleb, Jucy McClanahan, Laurie Osbourne and John Proskie.

After the show there was a buffet in the dining room and everyone was invited.

At 9:00 p. m. on Friday, the Torchlight Service was held. This is a ceremonial exercise illustrating the passing of class leadership and authority from the Sophomores to the Freshmen. All Sophomores participated in caps and gowns. The torch of the Sophomore Class was carried by Pres-

"Horizons Unlimited"

Dr. Floyd V. Turner

The following inspirational and thought provoking address was delivered by Dr. Turner to the student body during the final chapel assembly of the year.

Dr. Elton Trueblood said, "If a student can emerge from college without any sense of greatness, without anything to disturb the triviality and mediocrity of his life, without some love of something noble in the history of the human race, if he gets out as simply a representative person and not one who is in love with the highest peaks of the human race, then the education of the person is fundamentally a failure." In a very forceful way, the Student Life Program as presented this year has attempted to disturb the triviality and mediocrity of your life. And in the midst of all of this, the program has attempted to bring into focus the future and to present guidelines which you may follow as you make decisions affecting your individual lives.

The preface appearing in the brochure outlining the Student Life Program for this year stated, "The spiritual life is the nucleus from which every other area of living and learning finds freedom to grow." This same preface concluded, "May each student become keenly aware of the importance each choice plays in determining her life and destiny. May each cultivate the desire to find and face truth, to seek and partake of beauty, and to know and give of self."

During the year you have had an opportunity to listen to outstanding people, representing every area of living. You have heard the theologian, the philosopher, the politician, and the scientist talk about life. You have heard conflicting opinions. You have heard discussed the merits of "The New Morality" and in like manner you have had pointed out to you the pitfalls of such a philosophy. In so many areas, even religion, we have had pointed out the inadequacy of the old and the fears of the new. After all of this, I ask, are you a computer which has been fed this information, and are you now programmed to greater confusion? Are you experiencing a feeling of futility? Or have you tried to analyze carefully and objectively what you have heard — have you filed some of this information away for future references and use when it can be more meaningful to you? Are you still able to build objectives and goals for yourself? Do you recognize in these encounters you have had with outstanding men and women a challenge for you so far as your own future is concerned?

Today, let's face some of the issues squarely, let's ask some questions, and let's try to organize our thinking to come up with some ideas that make sense. I believe very strongly that much of the confusion we are experiencing today is brought on primarily in the mind of the adult, because we as adults have required of young people that they believe something that doesn't make sense.

Question: Are you playing Russian roulette with your values?

Question: Is it "New Morality" or "New Frankness"?

Question: What is Freedom?

Question: As has been stated so frequently, are the "religious" people back home solid, stagnant, and self-interested?

No attempt will be made here to be specific in presenting answers; however, I believe certain ideas may be presented which will be very helpful. For example, I recommend for your reading an article which appears in the June issue of Glamour entitled, "The New Morality." Here we find a plea for thinking so that we may come up with something in this area that makes sense. I am concerned that some of you will not read this article so let me tell you just what the gist of it is. After a full and rather lengthy discussion indicating the importance of involvement because involvement strengthens your values, one of the parties of the dialogue says, "You've got to realize that the sex part isn't that big a deal. What counts is the involvement: sex is just another channel of communication." Emphasis is put upon involvement and freedom of the individual. Involvement is important just as is communication, but here we come face to face with the question — What is freedom? The freedom of the individual to choose for himself does not relieve that individual of his obligations — most important, his obligation to think. The last paragraph of this article in Glamour, states the case beautifully, "Hopefully, the New Morality is only a doorway to something better. Hopefully, it will lead beyond itself, not to a Scandinavian-type permissiveness, not to a new Victorianism, but to a Thinking Morality where men and women will with insight and vision, understand the full implications of all their actions. Where people won't or do not do something because they were told it was right, or because it's the popular way to behave, but because they have thought things through. Because, they will know in their own hearts the way things should be."

Recently, I watched an hour-long program on television that was primarily concerned with the place of God and the Church. Most of this program had to do with discussions held on college campuses. I was particularly impressed with some of the ideas I had heard expressed on this program when I heard Dr. Von Braun on our campus speak of the peaceful coexistence between religion and science. It is unfortunate but true, that the religious battleground is not the church but the campus. And in so many instances the student with little or no religious background is looking at religion as a possible answer to important problems while the student with what we would consider as a strong religious background is searching for relevance and meaning. It appears to me that many students now are refusing to categorize life into different areas, that is religion, politics, business, etc. The young person now insists that religion and life are one. President Jacqueline Grennan of Webster College, and here we have a Catholic nun who resigned from the order of which she was a member because she believes she can serve young people better, stated, "To secularize means to go into the market place." Stephen who was one of the first to give his life for Christianity, found that people thought too much of the temple and of the Law. Can it be said that in our day, people think too much of the church as a building and of the formal traditional method of worship. As one young person recently asked, "Do we really get down to the 'nitty gritty' of the problem?"

But we must ask ourselves the question, does religion need a structure such as the church, We recognize that for many for a long time, religion was a habit and we believe to have any meaning it must be much more than this. We recognize that morality is no longer religion's private domain — and this is good. One student commented that the liturgy of religion, if not the church, is to break the bread of love so people have bread to break. Faith is not enough — this is what the scripture means when it says, "Faith without works is dead." But reason is not enough. Both Dr. Schweitzer and Dr. Von Braun pointed this out very clearly to us, during their talks this year. When we think about our future and our relationship with the church, let's just list some things it seems to me young people are thinking.

You are saying that to serve God, you must serve man.

Also — The God of fear is gone — you want a god (or goddess if please) of love and reason.

And — you feel like your religion shouldn't hem you in, but that you emphasize the positive, "Thou shalt not kill, because you love so much."

You rebel against traditional prayer, but you have a strong feeling for those about you and you have a feeling for the entire world — you wish for others the very best. This comes from a basic love which you have for others — could this be prayer,

You know — even though you can't do it all the time — you still know that it is not enough to think right. You must act right.

Our original question, Does religion need a structure such as the church? History has proved that it does, but history has also proved that the church is not immune to change. So, the challenge for you to stay with your church of today is in desperate need of the vital thinking and the spirit of young people.

What I am asking you to do today is — think — whether it has to do with morality — what you are — what you think about those around you — or what your concept of God is. Use the intellect which you have. Your future is unlimited—it will not be easy but it is yours. Have you thought about that?

In Dr. Samuel Johnson's essay "Lives of the Poets" he deals at some length with Milton. He points out that Milton was blind and produced every line of "Paradise Lost" without one single chance to see what he had written, never with the advantage of crossing out, of seeing how it looked. Then, Johnson says, though Milton was blind and though he was unfortunate, "he was born for whatever is arduous." My challenge to you today is — above all learn to love — then learn to love the difficult.

ident B. J. Wilson, and was lighted by Dr. Turner. The girls in procession then formed the letters VIC, and B. J. lighted the torch of the new Sophomore Class President, Debi Bisbe. Going into formation around the bonfire, the girls then sang school songs.

After the Torchlight Service, the H2O Club presented "The Wonderful World of Water," a repeat of their show that was such a success in March.

Saturday morning, the Sophomores traveled to the Holiday Inn Convention Center for the Sophomore Breakfast at 9:30 a. m. In addition to a few invited guests, the class advisor, Mr. J. Neal Tolson, was present.

There was a reception for the Sophomores and their parents in President Turner's home at 3:30 p. m., Saturday afternoon. Several hundred guests called during the reception.

Greeting the guests on the porch were Dr. and Mrs. Turner, assisted by Miss B. J. Wilson, sophomore class president and Miss Eleanor Bryant, vice-president of the student government association. The entire faculty assisted as hosts and hostesses.

Orchestrated gave its Recital at 8:00 p. m. in the Fine Art Center. The Club chose "So This is The City" for the theme this year. After the Recital at 9:00, there was a repeat performance of the Water Show.

After threats of rain, Sunday turned out to be a clear day, for which the sophomores were very grateful. Graduation day — a day for which they had worked two years.

Second Generation

1967 graduates whose mothers are alumnae of Virginia Intermont:

Rebecca Feathers, daughter of Ackie GOBBLE Feathers, '61.

Ginger Finch, daughter of Virginia FITCHETT Finch, '41.

Kathleen Kelley, daughter of Virginia Ann COLLINS Kelley, '42.

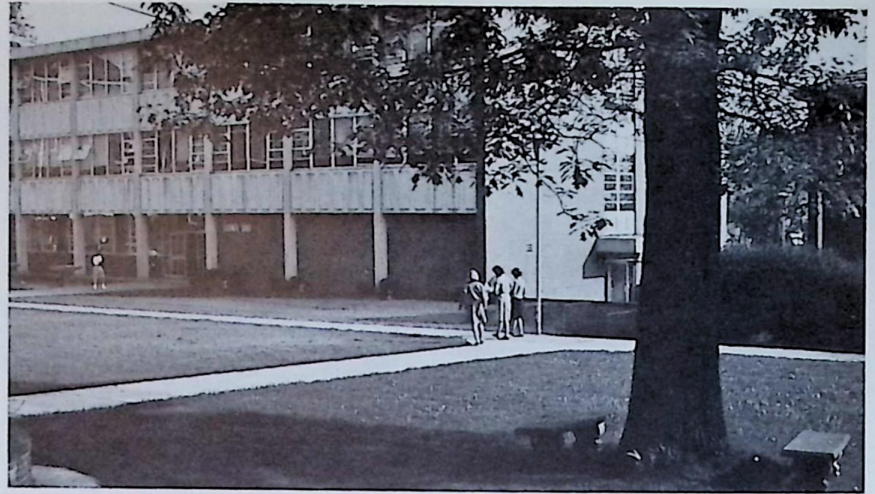

Kyle Peoples, daughter of Kitty COOKE Peoples, '40.

Hannah Rieg, daughter of Norma LAMOND Rieg, '36.

Susan Kay Sulick, daughter of Helen HUKILL Sulick, '35.

Effie Ann Tillman, daughter of Effie ALLEN Tillman, '40.

CAMPUS NEWS

1968 Sophomore Class President

One of the most important campus decisions to be made is the election of Sophomore class president. This choice has been made: she is Debi Bisbee. Debi is an enthusiastic, vivacious girl from Seaford, Delaware. She has been active in Orchesis, S. G. A. by service as hall president, freshman advisory council, and freshman fashion show. Debi's interests are varied and include oil painting, sewing, dancing, swimming, and traveling. She is presently enrolled in the elementary education program of study and would like to specialize in work with emotionally disturbed children.

Drama

Delta Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatic sorority, is a working organization to promote and head all dramatic activities on campus. It does not take the place of the dramatic club, The Virginia Intermont Players. Hard work in the Virginia Intermont Players from any student interested in all phases of the theatre will count towards initiation into Delta Psi Omega.

Plans are underway for next year's "Greek Weekend," the second weekend in November, which will be sponsored by Delta Psi Omega. Phi Beta and Phi Rho Pi will also participate in the weekend.

V. I.'s drama club, the Virginia Intermont Players, has contributed many fine productions to theater activity this year. Any student interested in any facet of the theater is welcome into this organization.

"As You Like It," "The Enchanted Marshmallow," and "The Gabawatchee" (the two children's plays which went on tour), "The Fantastics" (with Emory and Henry College, and two one-act plays, "This Property is Condemned" and "Twenty-Seven Wagons Full of Cotton," were the productions done this year. Trips to the Barter Theatre and Olde West Dinner Theatre were also sponsored.

Student Productions Well Received

Two student-produced one act plays were presented at the Fine Arts Theater on May 11 and 12. Miss Leslie Fry directed "27 Wagons Full of Cotton," and Miss Babs Mulvey took over "This Property is Condemned." Each girl was solely responsible for the entire production of her chosen play. Leslie and Babs were on their own to direct, arrange lighting, publicize, design, and build their individual sets, costumes, and to organize their stage crew. No faculty supervisor was involved.

Heading the cast of "27 Wagons" was Karen Young as Flora, Babs Mulvey as Silva, and Ed Smith as Jake. "This Property's" characters included Lynn Thomas as Willie and Fred Deere as Tom.

Interesting to note was that Silva in "27 Wagons" is a male character. Last minute developments forced Ed Spiegel to drop out of the play leaving the director with a choice of either folding the play or finding another way out. Babs Mulvey stepped into the role of Silva and thus changed the characterization somewhat. It was a wise move; the audience felt the impact. After only two nights of rehearsal, Babs Mulvey gave a very creditable performance.

When asked why Tennessee Williams' plays were chosen Miss Fry replied: "Williams was one of America's greatest playwrights who dealt with the lower class people that the South has chosen to forget ever existed."

Laura Burnett Named Editor of 1967 Cothurnus

Laura Burnett, a freshman from Fairfax, Virginia, has been chosen next year's editor of COTHURNUS, the V. I. Literary magazine.

Laura worked on the staff of her high school's literary magazine, and also assisted with COTHURNUS by designing the covers of this year's editions. She plans no major changes, but does have some new ideas of her own to contribute.

V. I. Women's Forensic Tournament

Virginia Intermont College took top honors with 44 points in the fourth annual V. I. Women's Forensic Tournament here on Saturday, April 29. V. I., as host, was ineligible for a trophy so the championship award went to East Tennessee State University with 36 points and the second place award to Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia. Also competing was Tusculum College.

The Virginia Intermont team scored in both affirmative and negative debate and in all six individual speaking events, taking first and second in Original Oratory and Monolog as well as first in Extemporaneous Speaking. Individual medals were given to first, second, and third place winners. Six Sophomores Named to Who's Who in Junior Colleges

A book, WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES, will be published this August. It will include short biographies on each student chosen, and will aid the students in obtaining scholarships and future employment.

Six girls were chosen by a group of faculty and staff members to represent Virginia Intermont in this book. Their selection was based on character, leadership, academic ability, and achievements during their college careers.

Eleanor Bryant is from Kenbridge, Virginia, and is a Liberal Arts major, who plans a nursing career after graduation.

Beverly Hamilton is from Maplewood, New Jersey, and plans to attend the University of Denver next year.

Kathy Winston is a General Culture major from Louise, Virginia. After graduation she plans to enter R. P. I.

Sharon Guillette is a General Culture major, and her home is in Newport News, Virginia. She plans to enter Carson - Newman College after graduation from Virginia Intermont.

Martha Ike came to Virginia Intermont from Atlanta, Georgia. After graduation she will be employed as a medical secretary.

Audra Whitlow, an Education major from Martinsville, Virginia, will attend the University of Virginia next year.

Our congratulations to these six young ladies who are now Intermont alumnae.

May Court 1967

On May 13 the Virginia Intermont May Queen, Margaret Lynn Garban, was crowned in the college amphitheater before a crowd of over five hundred students and spectators. Twenty-five sophomores chosen by the students were in attendance.

May Day was typical of any Southern pageant — beautiful and very colorful. Dr. Floyd Turner, college president, crowned the queen.

Lynn, a sophomore at Virginia Intermont College, is from Port Washington, Long Island, N. Y. Larry Edward Denney was her escort for the weekend.

The May Queen designed her own dress, an empire style, made of white imported Swiss embroidery lace over taffeta.

The maid of honor was Elaine Lee, from Salem, Virginia. She wore a long formal, made of silk organza over taffeta, coral color, with a matching hat also of organza material. Matching lace was used on the collar and sleeves.

Each of the twenty ladies of the court wore a pastel dress fashioned after the one worn by the maid of honor. The ladies carried a French bouquet of complementary pastel colors.

Paige Keppell, crownbearer, of Annandale, Virginia, was dressed in a princess style, long sleeve costume of light coral silk material.

The heralds, Dee Livesay, Richmond, Virginia, and Lynn King, Charlottesville, Virginia, wore long sleeve princess style costumes made of light silk material of emerald green.

The flower girl for the Queen was Ginger Renee Warren. She is the four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hunter Warren, of Abingdon, Virginia. Ginger was escorted by Jeffrey Kanipe, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kanipe.

The heralds announced each couple as they entered the amphitheater alternately from each side. The maid of honor then entered, followed by the crown bearer and the flower girl and her escort. The crowning of Miss Garban as the 1967 May Queen was the official climax of the day.

The May Pole dance was also very colorful and performed by members of the Orchesis Club.

The final activity in the amphitheatre was the presentation of "Everyman," a fifteenth century morality play. Under the direction of Eugene Maupin, head of Virginia Intermont's Music Department, the actors and actresses presented a memorable performance of the ever meaningful day.

With the playing of the recession-al, the entire entourage of ladies and escorts made their exit up the steps from the beautifully decorated amphitheater.

Miss Barbara Frogge, director of Student Life, was in charge of the May Court activities. Bob Roberts and Ralph Swanson supervised stage settings. Ann Stuart, a sophomore from Bluefield, West Virginia, was announcer for the program.

Students, parents, and other visitors were guests of the college at an informal reception following the court activities.

Final Chapel Program

The final chapel program for the school year was presented on May 16, an Honors Assembly. Three main awards were presented: the Margaret Noffsinger Memorial Scholarship Award, the Dean Marguerite Pflug Scholarship Award, and the Kay Hughlette Award.

The Margaret Noffsinger Memorial Scholarship Award is given in honor of the daughter of the former president and Mrs. H. G. Noffsinger. It is awarded on the basis of character, scholarship, and all around usefulness. This $100 scholarship was awarded to Miss Susan Alligood.

Miss Susie Smart was the recipient of the Dean Marguerite Pflug Scholarship Award. It honors 43 years of service of this former dean. The scholarship is made on the basis of excellent character, high scholarship and outstanding maturity.

The Kay Hughlette Award was also presented. It is a medal given to the outstanding sophomore day student. Miss Becky Feathers was the recipient of this award. To win this award the student must, first, show sincere interest in her academic work; secondly, have the respect and admiration of the faculty and her classmates; and third, have contributed much to Virginia Intermont by her moral and religious standards. Becky is the daughter of Ackie Feathers.

Miss Joy Aldridge received the music scholarship. This was awarded to the outstanding music major. The presentation was made by Mrs. Floyd Turner.

The Dean's List and Honorable mention were also announced. Dr. Louis Taylor, academic dean, made the presentations.

"NO MAN IS AN ISLAND" Chosen as Freshman - Sophomore Banquet Theme

The annual Freshman - Sophomore Banquet was held on May 15, 1967, at the Holiday Inn Convention Center. The hostesses wore brightly colored dresses, and traditional leis, and the hall was decorated in "Hawaiian" style with flowers and palm trees.

Joy Aldridge, freshman class president, presented gifts of recognition to Mr. Neal Tolson, sophomore class sponsor; Dr. Achille Riviello, freshman class sponsor; B. J. Wilson, sophomore class president. Dr. Floyd Turner, the honored guest, was presented a plaque from the freshman and sophomore classes by Sharon Guillette, the Ideal Intermont Girl.

The entertainment, in keeping with the Hawaiian theme, consisted of some island dances by Sue Tribble and Dickens Sprague. They began with a hula duet, which they choreographed themselves. Sue also demonstrated a Tahitian dance and a hula, while Dickens danced another type using bamboo sticks.

A local folk-singing group joined a group of freshmen in singing a new interpretation of "Try to Remember," which expressed their sentiments toward the departing sophomores.

Joy Aldridge also made the presentation of gifts to the sophomore. The gift was a small, glass brandy snifter with "V. I. C. '66-'67" in gold letters.

At the end the freshmen formed a double line for the traditional candle walk to be made by each sophomore. The freshmen held their candles and sang "Nil Sine Numine," as they watched the sophomores walk out. Someone said the theme had changed to "Cry Me a River," as all shared their sense of loss.

The sophomores were a great class, full of wonderful individuals, and for many it is the beginning of further higher education, and to some the terminal.

Eleanor Bryant is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Bryant of Kenbridge, Virginia. In addition to being honored by being chosen Apple Blossom Princess, she has received a number of other honors and awards while a student at Virginia Intermont.

During her sophomore year, Eleanor served as vice president of the Student Government Association and as a member of the Student Life Committee. She was also selected as a member of Phi Theta Kappa, junior college equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa in four-year colleges.

Eleanor ranked second academically in the class of 1967.

This summer Eleanor is working in Atlanta. She will enroll at the University of North Carolina during the second semester of summer school and continue there this fall. She plans to major in elementary education and to teach when she receives her degree.

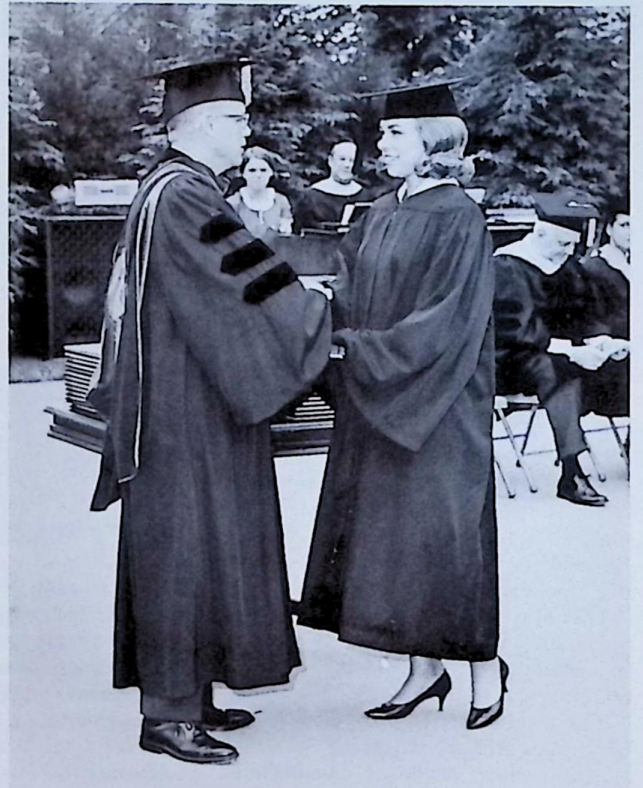

Margaret Lynn Garban is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Garban, of Port Washington, N. Y. She was selected by the student body as May Queen for 1967.

A home economics major, Lynn has been active in the Home Economics Club for two years, serving this year as projects committee chairman. She also served as an officer of the United Religious Association and was a member of Young Republicans and the staff of Intermont. In addition, Lynn was a candidate in the "Best Dressed Intermont Student" contest.

During the summer, Lynn plans to work in a hospital in New York. This fall she will enter the University of Georgia where she will major in Home Economics with an eye toward going into the field of interior decorating.

Beauty, Intelligence And Personality At Intermont

The four graduates featured on the cover and on this and the following page each typify the subject of our cover story this month—"Beauty, Intelligence, and Personality." We are proud of each member of the class of 1967 and especially of these four and their contributions to the continually developing Intermont story.

Susan Harrison ranked number one academically in her graduating class of 190 students. Of a possible 3.0 average, she attained a 2.636 grade point average.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson O. Harrison, Jr., of McLean, Virginia.

Susan served as secretary of Phi Theta Kappa, at Virginia Intermont, the junior college honor scholarship society corresponding, in general, to Phi Beta Kappa for four-year colleges. She also was devotional chairman of the United Religious Association, copy editor of Cothurnus, and, of course, on the Dean's List for scholastic achievement.

This summer holds much in store for Susan. On August 26, she will become Mrs. J. David Honeycutt. She and her husband will then attend evening classes at American University, in Washington, D. C., this fall. She plans to work as an executive secretary while attending school and working toward her B. S. in business.

Susan recently wrote: "My two years of school at Virginia Intermont were two of the most rewarding years I have ever spent. I feel that V. I. offered an atmosphere that promoted study and friendship. The classes were small enough that each student received individual interest and the friendship of the teacher. Prior to my enrollment in Virginia Intermont I had planned on only two years of college. My stimulating educational experience of the last two years has most definitely encouraged me to revise my plans and to pursue my education further."

Sharon Estelle Guillette Named Recipient of 1967 Ideal Intermont Award

A radiant smile, a winning personality, leadership abilities, intelligence, and a high degree of spiritual maturity are characteristics of the winner of the 1967 Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association's award for the "Ideal Intermont Girl."

Sharon Estelle Guillette from Newport News, Virginia, is this year's recipient of the beautiful engraved silver bowl presented to the student chosen for this honor. The award was presented during a special assembly held for the purpose of recognizing the student selected for the Alumnae award.

Phyllis TERRY Allred, class of 1956, president of the Alumnae Association, spoke prior to the special presentation. The award was made by Beth CARTER May, class of 1960, who cleverly led up to the climatic moment when the identity of the recipient was made known. Special music for the program was presented by Mrs. Charles Taylor.

The honoree is selected from nominations made by members of the college administration. The award committee is composed of Beth CARTER May '60, chairman; Lena ROBERTS Woolwine '33; Margaret COX Umburger '28; and Betty ADAMS '44.

The committee makes its selection on the basis of the following standards:

PHYSICAL: abundant health with good health habits; attractive and neat in appearance; dressing with taste — suitable to the occasion and place; proficient in at least one recreational sport.

MENTAL: scholastic ability which has been used to make at least a "B" average; active but controlled imagination which enables her to plan for herself and others; a reader of good literature; must show dependability, initiative, and the courage and stamina to see things through.

SOCIAL: a winsome personality with an unselfish interest in others; an able and willing leader or follower; an awareness of needs and the desire to be of service; the ability to make friends and keep harmony in groups.

SPIRITUAL: high moral standards; spiritual growth and a religion which fits her for service; takes part in school religious activities and attends church regularly.

An interest in one of the arts is considered an asset but is not set up as a requirement.

Sharon Estelle Guillette is shown receiving the engraved silver bowl presented annually by the Alumnae Association to the student selected as Ideal Intermont girl. Presenting the bowl is Beth CARTER May, '60, chairman of the selection committee and Phyllis TERRY Allred, '56, Alumnae Association president.

Sharon was a General Culture major at Virginia Intermont with a special interest in psychology. She was on the first semester Honorable Mention list for scholastic achievement. One of her recommendations stated: "In her classroom assignments Sharon has shown dependability, initiative, and courage to see things through to a successful completion. She will do the little extra things to ensure her success."

Included in her many campus activities were membership in the French Club, Young Republicans, program chairman of the Baptist Student Union, and chairman of the dormitory devotions committee. She was secretary of the class of 1967. Sharon possesses greater than average ability as a leader as evidenced in her campus activities. Because of her understanding nature, others respect her leadership and follow her easily.

Concerning her spiritual life, one person said, "It is my personal opinion that Sharon has as much spiritual depth as any girl on campus. Someone has said that "she is as beautiful within as she is without." Sharon was an active member of the First Baptist Church.

Sharon's future plans call for a career in the field of Religious Education. She will enroll this fall as a student at Carson-Newman College where she will study social work. This summer she plans to work with her church in Newport News in ministering to the needy in the slum areas of the city.

The Alumnae Association is proud of each girl who has received the "Ideal Intermont" award. All have been most deserving of the honor. We are pleased to add the name of Sharon Estelle Guillette to the long list of outstanding recipients who all typify the Intermont spirit which endures through the years.

Congratulations, Sharon!

Faculty Forum—"Daily Life Portrays Character"

Miss Sara Fortune, one of our Home Economics teachers, wrote the following editorial which appeared in the spring 1967 issue of THE VIRGINIA FUTURE HOMEMAKERS.

Samuel Butler said "Every man's work . . . is always a portrait of himself, and the more he tries to conceal himself the more clearly will his character appear in spite of him." So character is not like the elaborate evening gown in a lady's closet—a garment to be worn only on festive occasions. It more closely resembles the workdress, put on in the morning and accompanying the wearer as she attends classes, cooks, cares for children, engages in her career or business, markets, and meets with her neighbors, friends and fellow students. One's true character, not to be confused with her reputation, cannot be assumed or concealed. By adulthood it has been formed and molded to the extent that it is as integral a part of one as her particular gait or hair color.

When we ask of someone "Has she a good character?" we are inquiring about her honesty, kindness, morality, ambition, and steadfastness. Do you attend class with any students who are attractive in appearance and personality, but are dishonest in preparing homework or taking tests? This is a serious flaw in character. Do you know any young people who are disobedient or disloyal to parents and friends? Does anyone admire the person who does not do what she says she will or who tries to be what she is not? In their daily lives these people "show" their character.

Work well done reveals good character; we are all wary of the person who shuns the "dirty job" in favor of the position of leadership, or, having accepted the less coveted task, grumbles at it and gives it only halfhearted attention. How we all love to be near the girl who, after joyfully planning and directing the class project in April, appears just as happy washing dishes or being on the clean-up committee for the May gathering.

Truly our characters are revealed in everyday society with others; what insight Stendhal showed when he said "One can acquire everything in solitude—except character."

Howard Walter wrote this creed as he studied for the ministry in Japan: "I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare." These lines suggest attributes of the person with fine character. To live by the Golden Rule, thinking of self last, and always to apply the teachings of Christ, are two practices we must constantly try to make a part of our daily lives.

"Will there be enough room?" questions Andra Whitlow, '67, as she packs for home.

Program personalities for commencement service join in singing "God of Our Fathers."

Outstanding Chapel Series Continues Featuring Dr. Joyce Brothers, Dr. Walter Judd, Dr. Werner Von Braun

Dr. Joyce Brothers

In one of the V-I Chapel Series lectures, Dr. Joyce Brothers gave the girls some "tidbits" of information on "Love and How to be an Expert on Love." She asked the girls if they were experts on love. Dr. Brothers said to be an expert on love one would have to be almost a mind reader. She said signs and signals from the body, such as trembling and forgetting things, are indications of love. An expert on love is able to spot signs of love by the emotion one shows, she added.

Dr. Brothers thought lying comes more easily for women than for men, and it's more fun for women, although most persons in this country don't like to lie.

Dr. Brothers is a well-known psychologist, a syndicated newspaper columnist, and appears on television and radio frequently. She broke tradition by being voted membership in Sigma Xi, the honorary society for men in scientific research.

Dr. Brothers asked the students if they thought that love can last a lifetime. She said two out of 12 marriages last, but that most end up in divorce or with no love attraction.

Dr. Brothers gave the students a quiz on marriage mates. Anyone making a perfect score on the quiz should be able to stay married for a lifetime.

Dr. Walter Judd

Dr. Walter Judd told the Virginia Intermont girls that he thought a thaw in the cold war was unrealistic, and that the U. S. might have to show willingness to use nuclear weapons to win cold war confrontations. He said the Sino-Soviet split is no quarrel between nations but a disagreement within the international Communist movement over how—not whether—to conquer the world.

Dr. Judd said China's idea is to take over through bloodshed, in Vietnam and elsewhere, and Russia would keep the U. S. asleep to its danger until communism was powerful enough to take over without atomic war. He denied that increasing socialism here and free enterprise in Russia would bring U. S. and Soviets closer together. Russia's apparent mellowing is simply a strategic retreat, due to troubles with China and its own production shortages, he stated.

You cannot go on what you believe, you have to go on facts. Russia has no intention of taking down the Berlin Wall, letting East Europeans vote on their form of government, accepting disarmament with inspections, or stopping the use of Cuba as a base to subvert this hemisphere, he further stated. He added that both China and Russia have supporters for their ideas on communism on the other side, showing that this is a quarrel between factions of the Communist world.

Judd said when the U. S. showed a willingness to fight, Russia backed down. Nuclear war was threatened 12 times in the last 20 years—during the Kennedy, Eisenhower, and Truman administrations. In other words, a firm confrontation led to de-escalation. Vietnam is the test case at the moment—the 13th.

Judd said the Kremlin knew we were prepared to use atomic weapons, and the U. S. has blocked communism by showing a willingness to use nuclear weapons.

Dr. Werner von Braun

As the final speaker for this year's school term, Dr. Werner von Braun, one of the leading scientific intellectuals of this era, told the students that

"the growing disparity between demand and supply will be the greatest problem your generation will face. The future of mankind might well rely on the technological advances achieved through space exploration and research, and space exploration could provide the answers which will be essential to survival," he said.

Dr. Von Braun, whose subject was "The Future," spent much of his 40-minute lecture in defending the goals and motives of space travel. He said Science was still a wide open frontier, and just as man had conquered other fronts when technology allowed him, now the door was open for journey deep into space and to other worlds. He thought the investment in space exploration, which has already run into the billions of dollars, is now paying and will continue to pay dividends. Already, he said, satellites are circling the globe which can detect, by sensor, the amount and nature of agricultural crops, population deployment and weather conditions.

He said science has also produced some evil but he believed that truth will be the ultimate victor and that the peaceful and progressive uses of science shall prevail.

Alumnae Association Board Meets; New Executive Secretary Announced

A special meeting of the Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association was held Saturday, June 3, 1967, in the Student Center Conference Room. This meeting was held to make some important decisions before Phyllis TERRY Allred '56, president, moved to her new home in Wilmington, N. C.

Dr. Turner spoke to the group. He told them of the anticipated changes on campus next year, and thanked the members of the Alumnae Association for their interest and enthusiasm.

Sharon GUILLETTE, a sophomore from Newport News, Virginia, and winner of the "Ideal Intermont" Award, endeared herself to the Association through a very inspiring talk.

Lucille THOMPSON Furrow '34, the new Executive Secretary of the Alumnae Association, was introduced and spoke briefly to the group. She said it was truly a wonderful experience to return and see old friends and make new ones, and to see all the wonderful things being done by Virginia Intermont.

Wanda COOPER Barnes '42, Chairman of Alumnae Weekend, announced that Alumnae Weekend would be October 13 and 14. Reunions are scheduled for the classes of 1917, 1927, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1957, and 1962, these being the 50th, 40th, 30th, 25th, 20th, 10th, and 5th reunions for these groups since graduation from Virginia Intermont. Special emphases are put on these classes, but all alumnae are invited and urged to attend. Mr. Bob Porterfield, founder of Barter Theatre, will be the speaker at the banquet. Martha Jean HULSEY Bundy '44 will be in charge of the music. Gwen LANG Smith '46 will be in charge of a fashion show and tea on Saturday afternoon.

Mae YANCEY Amis '21, Scholarship Chairman, reported that Deedee Dunn would receive the Alumnae Scholarship for 1967, which has been increased from $200.00 to $350.00.

Mr. Styles reported that 215 alumnae had given or pledged $15,468.04 for the Cooke Museum. Contributions from other sources make a total of $21,560.08.

The members of the Association were the guests of the College at a specially planned luncheon in the dining room.

"Alumna of the Year" Who Will She Be?

Do you want to nominate someone for the "Alumna of the Year"? Does she possess unusual ability in her chosen field of endeavor, and does she maintain an active interest in Virginia Intermont? Is she active in community affairs where she lives, or has she contributed to the greater "world community"?

Normally nominations are accepted from each alumnae chapter. If you know such a person, and there is no chapter in your area, and you would like to see her chosen as the "Alumna of the Year". Please contact Mrs. W. M. Sexton, 132 Virginia Drive, Bristol, Virginia.

Mrs. Sexton has already received some nominations, but feels there are many more qualified candidates who should be nominated.

The "Alumna of the Year" will be honored during Alumnae Weekend, October 13 and 14, at which time she will be presented a silver bowl appropriately engraved.

In Memoriam

The Alumnae Association extends its sympathy to the following alumnae, friends, and their families:

The family of Elizabeth KING Mitchell, class of 1891, who passed away in the Fall of 1966.

Mrs. Maime PERRY Hilton, class of 1903, whose husband, Roy Lee Hilton, Sr., died June 1, 1967.

Mrs. Margaret MINTER Sexton, class of 1917, whose sister Miss Beulah Minter, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, died Friday, May 26.

The family of Mrs. Mary Alice MOTTERN Pippin, (Mrs. Gordon W. Pippin), class of 1941, who died May 31, 1967.

Request For Yearbooks

We have received a copy of The Intermont — 1917, which we greatly appreciate. It was given to the Alumnae Office by Margaret MINTER Sexton '17.

We do not have copies of yearbooks for many of the early years of the College. If any of these early editions are in your possession (either yours, your mother's, or your grandmother's) and you would like to have them preserved at the College, please let us know and thereby help us complete our collection.

Alumnae President Moves To North Carolina

Phyllis TERRY Allred (Mrs. John), class of 1956, president of the Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association for 1966-1968, moved to Wilmington, North Carolina in June. Her new address is 112 Forest Hills Drive.

John is associated with Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, and they have purchased a big colonial-type home in Wilmington. We are going to miss seeing Phyllis, but she has promised the office her continued support and she will be able to do just as much for us in her new location.

Our best wishes go with her and her family.

Carolee German Delcher '39 And Family Visit Campus

Carolee GERMAN Delcher '39, (Mrs. M. B.), her husband, and four children visited the campus June 23, 1967. The Delcher's have two sons, ages 11 and 12, and two daughters: Mary Lisa, born March 28, 1959, and Dana Joe Ann, born October 11, 1957.

The girls are being raised properly with mama telling them stories about her stay at Virginia Intermont College (she was May Queen), in anticipation of their coming to Virginia Intermont in the future, no doubt! "Just think," Carolee remarked, "Mary Lisa will be back here in eight years as a student."

Carolee's daughter, Elizabeth Ann ELDERKIN was a student in 1959 at Virginia Intermont. Bessie May GARRETT German, mother of Carolee, was a day student at Virginia Intermont in 1908. As you readily see, Virginia Intermont is a family tradition.

The Delcher family was on a historical tour of Virginia, and also visited relatives in the Holston Valley area. They reside in Sparks, Maryland.

Sally Snodgrass Currin Visits Campus On Way To New Home In Hawaiian Islands

A recent visitor to Virginia Intermont was Sally SNODGRASS Currin (Mrs. Fleming), class of 1962. Sally and her husband were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Snodgrass. Mr. Snodgrass is Business Manager at Virginia Intermont.

The Currins stopped by Bristol in May for a visit on their way to the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Currin is in the Air Force and will be stationed on an island south of Hawaii for one year. Sally will be living in Honolulu where she is employed in the International Restaurant at Honolulu International Airport.

Prior to their transfer to the Hawaiian area, the Currins lived in Fayetteville, N.C., where Mr Currin was in the service and Sally was a supervisor for the State Employment Office.

Sally was an outstanding student while at Virginia Intermont. She was placed on the Dean's List, January 10, 1961, because of her high caliber of academic work. She received the Kay Hughlett award, which is presented to the most outstanding day student, 1962. In 1962 she was the recipient of the much-coveted "Ideal Intermont Girl" award.

The Snodgrass' son, Wayne, is living Los Angeles where he is employed as an electrical engineer for McDonnell-Douglas Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass plan a trip to Hawaii (via Los Angeles, of course) sometime this summer.

Bristol Alumnae Chapter Honors Class of 1967

Graduating sophomores were honored Thursday night, March 9, 1967, at a party given by the Bristol Chapter of the Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association.

Mrs. Richard May, president of the chapter, welcomed the girls. Richard Styles, Director of Development at the college, was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. George Bundy, a graduate of V-I, sang two solos. Mrs. Steve Turner accompanied her.

Karen Meadows, a freshman, sang two selections, accompanying herself on the guitar.

Bristol comedian Hugh Green presented a comedy routine.

A group of freshmen also presented a program of entertainment. They included Diane Rubenstein, Jessie Baur, Mary Ann Turner, Pam Prout, Nancy Hunger, Gerry Andrechyn, Joan Terry, Karen Young and Karen Stuard.

One of the highlights of the evening was the hill-billy band, "The Fifties and the Sixties." The band was composed of local alumnae.

Make Your Plans Now to Attend Alumnae
Weekend
October 13-14

1967 Alumnae Weekend Scheduled For October 13-14. Reunion Classes: 1917, 1927, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1957, 1962.

Virginia Intermont's annual Alumnae Weekend will be held October 13 and 14 at the college. This is the third year for the fall observance of this special weekend, and it is proving more popular from year to year. Last year's meeting was termed quite successful as beautiful weather prevailed and an enthusiastic group of alumnae visited the campus. It is hoped that even more alumnae will attend this year's get-together.

A number of special events have been planned, including the annual business meeting for the Alumnae Association, a luncheon, a fashion show, the president's tea, and the climatic banquet featuring awards, recognitions, good food, fun, and an outstanding speaker.

The Saturday evening banquet will be the outstanding affair of the weekend. Mr. Robert Porterfield, founder of the nationally famous Barter Theatre in Abingdon, Virginia, will be the speaker at the banquet. There will be special recognition of the reunion classes, student entertainment, and other features of special interest to alumnae. A special event will be the presentation of the "Alumna of the Year" award to an outstanding alumna.

Martha Jean HUSLEY Bundy '44 will be in charge of the music.

Reunions are scheduled for the of 1917, 1927, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1957, and 1962; these being the 50th, 40th, 30th, 25th, 20th, 10th, and 5th reunions for these groups since graduation from Virginia Intermont. Of course, we hope you are all planning to come, if for no other reason than to see what everyone looks like after so many years! But let's reiterate: All alumnae are invited and urged to attend the weekend festivities, not just the reunion classes. Reunion classes are honored but each alumna is requested and invited to attend.

Each alumna will be interested in seeing the new buildings which have been added in recent years. The new dormitory is really a hit with the students fortunate enough to live there. The Harrison-Jones Memorial Hall, Virginia Intermont's new chapel-auditorium, will be ready in September.

Administrative personnel and faculty members will be on hand to visit with the alumnae and answer their questions concerning the college and its future.

All in all it promises to be a weekend of entertainment, reminiscing, information, and reliving past moments when you were an Intermont student.

So mark your calendar for the weekend of October 13-14. We hope to see you then.

Washington Area Alumnae Hear C. Ernest Cooke; Elect New Officers

A warm sunny April Fool's Day welcomed the Washington area alumnae to their spring luncheon held at Blackie's House of Beef in the District.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mr. C. Ernest Cooke, who showed colored slides of the new buildings on the Virginia Intermont campus, and enlightened the group as to the progress of the C. Ernest Cooke Museum. Slides of some of Mr. Cook's art collection were also shown.

Dr. Elizabeth J. Oswald, chapter president of 1965-67, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Jackie HAWKINS Dianich, nominating committee chairman, presented the new slate of officers for the coming year. The officers are as follows: Bethany BUSS Conover, class of '58, president; Barbara Swan, class of '66, vice president; Eleanor LIDDLE Andrews, class of '59, secretary; and Lilian HENSLEY Thompson, class of '11, treasurer.

The group included 32 alumnae members, prospective students, and guests.

to the first alumnae contributors to the C. Ernest Cooke Arts Museum Fund.

On the following pages are listed the names of the 213 alumnae who have contributed to the C. Ernest Cooke Arts Museum Fund through June 30, 1967. The total amount pledged through that date is well over $15,000, one-fourth of the way toward our goal of $60,000.

Virginia Intermont College and the Alumnae Association wish to express our sincere appreciation for these gifts and honor the contributors in this special section of the Alumnae Magazine. If you are not included on this list, we hope you will soon contribute to this worthwhile endeavor.

Daughter of Alumna Outstanding Opera Star

Marie Dornya (Donna Marie Hankla), daughter of Velma CASH Hankla, class of 1929, made her debut as "Kaiserin" in the New York premiere of Richard Strauss' DIE FRAU OHNE SCHATTEN. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. T. Cash, 1016 Windsor Avenue, Bristol, Tennessee. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Everette Hankla, Tazewell, Virginia, is organist-choir director at Main Street Church, Tazewell, and in addition has about thirty-five piano pupils.

Here are some critics' comments on Marie Dornya in her role as "Kaiserin":

"Newcomer Marie Dornya brought fairylike grace and beauty to the part . . . soloist wisely chosen." — Winthrop Sargeant—New Yorker.

"Maria Dornya excellent . . . fluent in Strauss Style . . . not in the least frightened by requirements or demands . . . first rate performance." — Jay Harrison Musical America.

". . . deeply impressed . . . a young Virginian of fine voice and technique, Maria Dornya made her New York debut last night." —Louis Biancolli—N. Y. World Telegram.

The following comments on Marie Dornya's title part of world premiere of Hoiby's NATALI PETROVNA are very interesting:

". . . attractive and vocally gifted Marie Dornya supported the demanding title role with assurance, beautiful sound as well as good looks." — Irving Kolodin—Saturday Review.

"In Maria Dornya as "Natalia" the company has come up with a soprano who has looks, intelligence, a great voice and considerable acting ability." —Harold C. Schonberg—N. Y. Times.

Lucille THOMPSON Furrow

New Alumnae Secretary Appointed In May

Lucille THOMPSON Furrow, Virginia Intermont Class of 1934, is the new Executive Secretary of the Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association. Mrs. Furrow assumed the duties of this position on May 22 succeeding Ruby McREADY Ford who resigned in March.

Mrs. Furrow comes to Virginia Intermont with a variety of experience which will stand her in good stead in the Executive Secretarial position. She has been employed at Emory and Henry College as Executive Secretary, and as secretary to a Bristol electronics engineer. She has also done substitute teaching in Bristol and some free lance writing and interviewing.

Lucille is married to Mr. Beverly E. Furrow and they have one son, "Butch" (Eugene Evans) who is a sophomore at East Tennessee State University, majoring in accounting and business administration. The family resides at 239 Shirley Drive, Haynesfield, Bristol, Tennessee. They attend Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Furrow states, "I am very anxious to meet as many alumnae as possible and to try to work with them to improve the effectiveness of our Alumnae Association. I shall welcome any and all constructive suggestions concerning the operation of the Alumnae Office."

Gift From Irma Furbeck Lee

Approaching the middle parlor in the Administration Building, one notices the addition of something new and different. . . a harvest table under an elegant mirror. The table was purchased by Margaret BURLESON Crumley with funds provided by Irma FURBECK Lee '55. The mirror was purchased by Mrs. Turner at a special sale.

Margaret had the table finished in gold to match the mirror, and it surely does a lot for the room. The table is one that can be fitted into almost any setting. "If its next location is less formal, a new finish will transform it for its new location," commented Margaret.

Phyllis TERRY Allred, '56; Shirley GILBERT Terry '59, Barbara Ann SHANKA '59; Angela ATWELL Hopkins '60 serve members of the class of '67 at the party in their honor.

Weddings

Mrs. Wm. Chas. Rennagel

Hall—Rennagel

Susan Carol HALL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hall, of 510 overland Drive, Stratford, Conn., became the bride Sunday, April 16, of Lt. William Charles Rennagel, U.S.A., son of Mrs. Harry G. Rennagel, of 315 32nd St. West, Bradenton, Florida, and the late Colonel Rennagel, U. S. A.

The afternoon ceremony, a military wedding, took place in the Cadet Chapel of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Miss Diane M. HATZENBUHLER, '66 a former college classmate of the bride, was a bridesmaid. Mrs. Rennagel was graduated from Virginia Intermont College, class of 1965. Lieutenant Rennagel was graduated in June, 1966, from the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Craig—Berninger

Susan Elaine CRAIG, class of 1966, and Harold Evan Berninger were married on Saturday, the fifteenth of April, at half after two o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church, Sixth and Lincoln Streets, Bloomington, Indiana.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James Stewart Craig.

Whitehead—Eubank

Mary Anne WHITEHEAD, class of 1963, and Gordon Burnley Eubank, Jr., were married on Saturday, the seventeenth of June, at five o'clock at the First Baptist Church, Richmond, Virginia.

Mary Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jackson Whitehead of Richmond.

Mrs. David Leslie Aitken

Jones—Aitken

Currently Instructor in Homiletics at Princeton Seminary, he will begin his duties in the fall as an Associate Professor of Preaching at Garrett Theological Seminary, Evanston, Illinois.

An August 12 wedding is planned in Miller Chapel at Princeton Seminary.

Army Student Dietitian Program

A long dream came true at the Pioneer Post Office in Portland, Oregon, February 10, 1967, for Valerie H. DAVIS '66, when she was sworn into the United States Army.

Valerie had been accepted by the United States Army as a participant in the Army Student Dietitian Program. Presently classified under student Code E-3, she will receive a student allowance each month until graduation while serving in the Womens' Army Reserve Corps.

"On graduation, I will be commissioned a second lieutenant and immediately enter into one year of hospital dietetics internship. After interning, I will serve three years as a commissioned officer and an active army hospital dietitian," explained Valerie.

The petite coed has been part of an army family all her life. She now hails from Meno Park, California, but has lived periodically in such places as Italy and Panama.

The new reservist learned of the Student Dietitian Program when she was a high school sophomore. "I had been thinking seriously of becoming a hospital dietitian," commented Valerie, "so one day I just went to the army hospital on the post where I was living and talked to the dietitian. She really got me interested by telling me about the Army Medical Specialist Corps and the Student Dietitian Program."

Shortly after the commencement of this term, Dr. Margaret L. Fincke, head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition, Oregon State University, received a telegram from Leonard D. Heaton, Surgeon General of the United States Army, informing her of the acceptance of Miss Valerie Davis as a participant in the United States Army Student Dietitian Program. Dr. Fincke presented Miss Davis with the telegram.

Valerie, now a student at Oregon State University, will finish her college work at O. S. U., in 1968.

Special programs like the Army Student Dietitian Program are available to prospective dietitians, nurses, physical therapists, and occupational therapists through the Army Medical Specialist Corps. The program is a great financial help for the junior and senior years of college.

When asked if she were apprehensive about her future position and army life, Miss Davis exclaimed, "I'm looking forward to my job, and as for army life, I love it, love it, love it!"

Alumnae Weekend:
October 13-14
All Alumnae Are Invited and Urged to Attend

CLASS COURIER

NEWS FROM THE ALUMNAE

1906

Ione FOUTS (Mrs. O. E. Smith, Sr.) studied music at Virginia Inter-mont and earned a teacher's certificate. Since she was here only one year, she wondered if she should be counted an alumna. Yes, Ione, you are indeed an alumna. One is counted an alumna if they complete one year.

Ione is a retired piano teacher and her husband is a retired accountant. They have one daughter, married, who is a school teacher. The Smiths live at 3418 Avenue G, Fort Worth, Texas.

Zelma McKIM Weeks (Mrs. Willard) and husband are residents of Black Mountain, North Carolina. Mr. Weeks is the Manager of Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly at Ridgecrest, North Carolina.

1928

Pauline SHUMATE Phlegar '28 (Mrs. Paul Phlegar) writes that they have three adorable grandchildren. Their two children are Mrs. Joe Hoge and Harvy Phlegar.

Pauline has devoted much of her life to civic and social projects, but in the past few years they have built a cottage on a lake, 33 miles from home, and they are now spending much of their time fishing and boating. Their address is P. O. Box 401, Pearisburg, Virginia.

Mary Virginia BARNETT Lasley (Mrs. Allen W.) and her husband live at 211 West Leicester Street, Apt. 3, Winchester, Virginia.

Until recently she was executive secretary of Farmers & Merchants National Bank, but is currently on leave of disability, having fallen and broken her hip in October, 1966. She is disabled from a disease known as MS, but she states: "I am one MS who has this disease under my control and have to keep my will very strong so that I can keep it under control. At this time I am ahead with the help of my husband, my family, my ministers and my many friends."

1930

Anne SOWELL Margrett visited in Bristol while on furlough this past year. She also visited her Virginia Inter-mont roommate and classmate, Mrs. Lucille FAUCETTE Galloway, now living in Kingsville, Ontario, Canada. They had not seen each other in 28 years so it was a very happy reunion.

Anne is director of the Women's Department of the Baptist Seminary in Buenos Aires, Argentina. She remarked that she always looks forward to receiving the Alumnae Magazine and is especially pleased when it contains news regarding some of her classmates.

It was good to have Anne in our midst. She manages to see us every time she has a furlough, which is about every five years. She remarked that each time she visits the campus she is amazed at the changes which have taken place since her prior visit.

Anne was a house guest of Mrs. Vic Laws while in Bristol.

Virginia McCOY Johnson (Mrs. William) sent a great deal of information on her biographical data form. She and her husband reside in Steubenville, Ohio. Their daughter, Becky, is a former high school Home Economics teacher who graduated from Syracuse University in 1961, and now is married to A. H. Magnus, Jr., and living in Michigan.

Other information Mrs. Johnson sends concerns Ruth GIBSON Voss '30, whose husband is a physician in Odem, Texas; Mary Jess RICHMOND Long (Mrs. H. P.), class of '30, who lives in Alexandria, Virginia; and Helen McCOY Miller (Mrs. James G.), class of '33, who is a prominent organist and music teacher in Wintersville, Ohio. Her children are Patricia, a teacher of music, and Ted, a junior at Miami University.

Mary K. McCOY Weinman (Mrs. Wm. J.) '31, remembers Mr. Cooke so pleasantly, according to her recent letter. Her husband has been an attorney in Ohio for 3 years and two years ago passed the Florida Bar Exam. She would like to hear from some members of her class. Her address is 267 Belleview Boulevard, Steubenville, Ohio 43952.

Helen McCOY Miller (Mrs. James G.) is a prominent organist and music teacher in Wintersville, Ohio. Her children are Patricia, a teacher of music; and Ted a student at Miami University.

1936

Mildred RUSH (Mrs. David H. Mason) and family have resided in New York the past six years. The Mason children are David, Jr., a sophomore at Williams College; John a freshman at Lafayette College; and Martha, who will be a freshman in high school next year.

Mr. Mason is Chief of Personnel at the Veterans Administration Hospital and Mildred teaches in the Beacon New York School System. She writes, "I truly enjoy the Alumnae Magazine and regret not taking time to say so."

1937

Patsy KELLY Strader (Mrs. William R.) and her family live in Richlands, Virginia, Box 788. Her husband is Chief-of-Staff at Mattie Williams Hospital. They have two children: Elizabeth, age 18; William, Jr., 16.

1938

Frances RICHARDS Chappell, P. O. Box 10264, Tampa, Florida, received her B. S. Degree in Business Administration from University of Tampa in 1963; M. Ed. degree from University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida, in 1965. She is currently teaching Stenograph, Shorthand, Typewriting, and Business English in high school in Tampa. Daughter, Gwen, lives in New York City and works for an investment firm. Son, John, was graduated from University of Florida in 1966 and is now Lieutenant John R. Anderson, U. S. A. F.

Gloria Carico PENA, is now Mrs. Howard Curry, 6501 S. W. 72 Court, Miami, Florida. Her husband is an attorney. She has three sons by a previous marriage. The oldest is studying pre-med in Texas, the middle boy is a senior in high school, and the youngest is in the 5th grade and has been collecting trophies in golf, as has Gloria.

Marie RIBLET Roeseler (Mrs. L. J.) 535 Station Road, Quakertown, Pennsylvania, reminds us that her daughter Karen is now a student at Virginia Inter-mont. Her picture should have been in our Winter Issue, along with Nostrae Filliae 1966-1967. Marie's husband is a printer (plant supervisor) for Quakertown Free Press. They have two other children, Dennis, 15 and Janice Marie, 11, who will be a future "Intermonter"—we hope.

Ruth Anne WICKER Lynch (Mrs. James Day Lynch) has an unusual claim to fame as a loyal alumna of Virginia Inter-mont. She is among the few who claim the distinction of being a third generation graduate of the college. Her grandmother, Melissa REYNOLDS Puckett, and also her great aunt, Evelyn ROBINSON Johnson, attended Virginia Intermont when the school was in its infancy. In 1914 her mother, Lula PUCKETT Wicker, was graduated from Virginia Intermont, as well as her five sisters.

We are hoping that her little daughter, Virginia Anne, will carry on the PUCKETT tradition and someday be of the fourth generation to receive her diploma from Virginia Intermont. The Lynches also have two sons.

Ruth Anne's address is Box 23, Fork Union, Virginia.

Diane GORDON Schonwald (Mrs. Milton Schonwald) and her family live at 3105 Brookhollow Road, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

They have a son and a daughter attending the University of Texas this year. They also have a younger son at home. Mr. Schonwald is president of Schonwald Supply Company.

Recently Diane, Marjorie ROSEN Horwitz, and Susan HORRELL Devine, all of the class of 1942, had a reunion. What fun they must have had reminiscing!

Eleanor (Nori) SMITH Flanary (Mrs. Fred Monroe), High School class of 1943, lives in Williamsburg, Virginia (P. O. Box 166) where she is employed as Deputy Clerk of the Circuit Court, County of James City, City of Williamsburg. Her husband is a C. P. A. with the firm of Flanary & Houser.

After graduation from high school at Virginia Intermont, Nori went to William & Mary and was graduated with a B. A. in history. She taught first grade and went back ten years later to work on her M. A. in elementary education.

Her husband is a southwest Virginia native. They have two sons, but no prospective 'Intermonter.'

"I still think fondly of my V. I. Days," wrote Nori.

Mrs. Carl J. Roncaglione (Tommie Ballard McCoy) is the mother of two future "Intermonters": Tommie, age 11, and Margaret (Katie), age 9. Not only did these girls' mother go to Virginia Intermont, but their grandmother and great grandmother also went to Virginia Intermont. Think about it—these girls could represent a fourth generation at V. I.

Tommie also has a son, Carl James Roncaglione, Jr., who is 7 years old. Her husband is an orthopedic surgeon.

Their address is 219 Ashby Avenue, Charleston, West Virginia 25314.

Jacqueline INGRAM Robie '46 (Mrs. Edward Adams Robie) lives at 89 Inningwood Road, Ossining, New York. Her husband is vice president and personnel director for Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

They have four children: Betty is entering Ohio Wesleyan University this fall and plans for a secondary school teaching career; Ted is an avid skier; Ned is an avid horseman; and "Jill" is an active 2½ year old.

They live in a new home and Ed commutes to New York.

Georgia BIGGERS Wilson (Mrs. Randolph Chamberlain Wilson, Jr.) is a partner in an optical company, "Jean Opticians," and her husband is an engineer with Wilson Engineering, Inc.

They have one son, Randolph Chamberlain Wilson, III, 8. The family resides in Glasgow, Kentucky.

Mrs. J. Edward Ames, III, (Frances E. LEWIS), writes us that her husband has been promoted to District Manager of VEPCO, in Hampton, Virginia, and their new address is 111 Leslie Drive, Newport News, Virginia.

Her daughter, Mary, is a sophomore at Randolph Macon Woman's College, in Lynchburg, and son, Jim, is a junior in High School.

Mrs. H. B. Johnson, Jr. (Oneita Mae EDWARDS) is a clerk with the Selective Service. Her husband is a partner in the meat packing firm of S. W. Edwards & Sons. They are the parents of three children, two sons and a daughter, Diane, age 14, who will soon be of Intermont age. Here's hoping that her mother begins grooming her for attending her Alma Mater.

Mrs. John Allen Cooper, Nee Mimi STENGEL, writes from Lancaster, Pennsylvania, concerning her family's activities. Her husband is an orthodontist and Director of Lancaster Cleft Palate Clinic. The Cooper progeny consists of two sons and two daughters. The Coopers are active horseback riders and use "the beautiful trails of Lancaster County" extensively.

Mimi writes that she is quite occupied with the Junior League, gourmet cooking, puppet shows, and "constantly re-doing our home." She has met a number of girls from the Lancaster area who are attending Virginia Intermont and are very happy there.

Mary (Bibbie) HARGIS Fraley '49 (Mrs. Bruce) lives at 324 Chestnut Street, Norton, Virginia. She operates "Bibbie's Corner" (gift shop), and her husband is owner and manager of Wise Hardware & Furniture Co. They have two children: Filden, 16, and Jane, 13.

Helen MESSER Cloud and husband, William, are now parents of five sons. The boys ages are 16, 15, 10, 6 and almost two. Mr. Cloud is Vice-President and Manager of Manufacturing for Pratt Company in Aurora, Illinois, where the family resides.

Mrs. Ray Cirino, Nee Delia (Dee-dee) GRAHAM, is a resident of North Miami Beach, Florida. The Cirinos have three sons: Charles, 13, Raymond, 12; and Scotty, 7. Delia substitute teaches in the Dade County school system, is soloist in the church choir, and does portraits in oils and pastels as a hobby. Mr. Cirino is a Musician in a Miami Beach hotel.

Ernestine BROWN Price '50 (Mrs. James E.) lives at 8220 Chancery Court, Alexandria, Virginia, with her husband and three sons. Her husband is a Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Army and they have been living in Alexandria for two years. Jim is working at the Pentagon with the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Prior to this, they spent three years in France, and were at the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

M. Lyle Kincheloe, lives at Silver Spring, Maryland. In 1966 she made a 13-month tour in the Research Analysis Corporation Field Office in Stuttgart, Germany. While in Europe she was able to get a "peep" at 9 countries. She is currently employed as a secretary for Research Analysis Corporation, McLean, Virginia.

Pamela, Gregory, Andrew Holt

Pictured above are the three children of Virginia BULTMEYER Holt '52 (Mrs. Philip L.) whose husband is a Senior Research Assistant to Brooklyn Union Gas Co. The picture was taken last August, and at the time Pamela was 9 years old, Gregory 5, and Andrew 2 months. Virginia keeps busy with hobbies of sewing and knitting and belongs to the Womans Club, Registrar of the Sunday School at Sparta Presbyterian Church, where her husband is general superintendent of the Sunday School.

The family resides at Route No. 1, Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey.

Margaret CHAMBERS Thompson and her husband, Fred, live at 3 Parkway Street, Newark, Delaware. They have two boys and a girl.

E Street, Pensacola, Florida, 32501, and she would like to hear from classmates.

Diane Marie HATZENBUHLER visited the campus during the week-end of March 4. She is a director-at-large for the Virginia Intermont Alumnae Association. Diane, who lives at 41 Smallwood Road, West Hartford, Connecticut, is secretary to the buyer for men's department in a large department store in that city. While here she spoke to the Retailing Class.

Every year Diane has a get-together-tea honoring students and alumnae from Connecticut who attended Virginia Intermont during recent years.

Alice Marie SMITH '66, Church Hill, Tennessee, visited the alumnae office on June 9, 1967. She is a senior at Louisiana State University, majoring in speech. Her sorority is Z. T. A.

She was the winner of the Women's Oratory Contest recently in which sixteen states participated.

She supplied us with the following information concerning former classmates at Virginia Intermont: "Elizabeth Ann McKEE of Martinsville, Virginia, class of 1966, became the bride of Thomas Houston Graves in March. Four of her V. I. friends served as attendants: Jeanne DAVIS, Galax; Susan HIGGINS, Arlington; Barbara SWAN, Springfield; and Alice SMITH, Church Hill, Tennessee.

Susan Janet HIGGINS of Arlington will become the bride of Forrest Keels in August. She will be attended by Jeanne, Beth, Barbara, and Alice.

Barbara SWAN will be a senior this coming fall at American University and Jeanne DAVIS is studying at Highpoint College, High Point, North Carolina."

Alice also tells us that Priscilla HAMPTON, class of 1965, and formerly of Pembroke, Kentucky, is now Mrs. Jack Tester and lives in Dallas, Texas. She will be a January graduate of North Texas State University.

Alice enjoyed her visit to the campus and hopes to visit us again before leaving for Baton Rouge in August.
